In scientific laboratories, quality products that meet standards are essential.

Stratlab specialise in the sale and after-sale support of laboratory products including instrumentation, consumables, disposables and chemicals/reagents.

With both UK and overseas customers in market sectors:

- Chemical/petrochemical
- Environmental
- Food and beverage
- Pharmaceutical

Since 1996, Stratlab have been recognised experts in chromatography and spectroscopy, sample preparation and testing regimes especially of organic and inorganic chemical products.

The nature of laboratory activity is that documentation of conformance to standards, product testing, manufacture safety data sheets are essential documents.

Stratlab selected Oracle Content & Experience Cloud as a repository to manage the documentation. A key feature in selecting the cloud was the ability to use “public” links to enable controlled contribution and release of the documents with third parties.

Ether Solutions worked with Stratlab to organise usage of the cloud across the business and to assist with the transfer of the material from the previous network file system storage.
